

Promoting women into prominent roles

There is an under-representation of women, especially ethnic minorities, in prominent roles in the community. We are interested in bringing together interested women with key agencies to improve representation.

Interested?

Here are examples of the types of roles that you might want to think about;

- Political, for example becoming a councillor
- Helping shape policy, for example for safer communities, health, leisure etc
- Careers in the local authority, Crown Prosecution Service, Health service and many more
- Advisory and consultation groups, for example with the Thames Valley Police
- Becoming a school governor, Board member with the Probation Service, NHS services, Police Authority, Fire & Rescue service etc
- Joining community organisations, such as Reading voluntary Action, RCRE, Sakoma, CAB and many more
- Working with the private sector, Chamber of Commerce etc
- Working with the media, local newspapers, radio or Television

There is no guarantee that we will get you into those roles, but we are committed to supporting you. As a first step, tell us if you are interested and we will take it from there.
